

Student-Led IEP Process: What's In It for Families?

Supporting your child to lead their own IEP process helps you:

- Understand the IEP process
- Increase your input, and your child's ideas, in the IEP process
- Build partnerships with the entire IEP team
- Grow your advocacy skills and your child's self-advocacy skills
- See your child's current growth and envision the road ahead
- Show your child's abilities and keep the focus on your child's plan for their future
